

Dali Wireless Joins EF Hawai'i

March 22, 2010 – The Entrepreneurs Foundation of Hawai'i is pleased to announce that Dali Wireless has become a member company. Dali Wireless provides breakthrough power amplifier technologies that improve cellular base station performance while reducing power consumption by 50%.

With a donation of equity to EF Hawai'i from its founders and investors, Dali Wireless has made a commitment to corporate philanthropy and community involvement. When Dali Wireless has a liquidity event, EF Hawai'i will sell its shares and use the proceeds to establish a charitable fund for the company. While awaiting the liquidity event, EF Hawai'i and its affiliate, the Entrepreneurs Foundation of the Bay Area, will help connect Dali Wireless to community service activities that fit the company's interests and resources.

EF Hawai'i thanks Dali Wireless CEO Albert Lee, CTO Shawn Stapleton, and investors John Dean, Tim Dick, and Danny Lui for this generous grant and for the company's commitment to giving back to the community.

About Dali Wireless

Modern cellular phone technologies provide consumers with an increasing range of attractive mobile voice and data services. However, these ever-higher bandwidth networks are increasingly expensive to operate and extremely energy inefficient. Most of this is due to the poor performance of the RF power amplifiers at the heart of cellular base stations (a.k.a. cell sites). Dali Wireless's new line of highly efficient power amplifiers, Remote Radio Head and Digital Repeater units can cut power consumption in the entire cell site by 50% while increasing bandwidth and linearity required for new generation technologies. Dali Wireless has patented breakthrough technologies that improve base station performance, shrink critical system size, and reduce power consumption by up to 50% vs. conventional approaches.
